Zero carb is getting (relatively) popular. A handful of valued MDA forum members eat little-to-no carb, and several others probably imagine it's ideal even if they don't personally follow it. I wanted to address this because there seems to be some confusion as to how a zero carb eating plan relates to the Primal Blueprint eating plan.

Pano is known as Wandering Lameness or Eosinophilic Panosteitis, and is due to rapid growth... and it also happens in fast growing children, particularly males. Pano is a self-limiting disease and will have spontaneous recovery in time. If left too long without a change in diet to reduce the pain there will be muscle wasting, something we want to avoid.
